How to Access Tegrity Videos Via Blackboard

1) Go to the eLearning/Blackboard login page: https://myelearning.sheltonstate.edu/

2) Login to Blackboard using your 'S' number (S00000000) and your password. Note the “Forgot Your Password” link.

3) Once you are in Blackboard, choose “College Chemistry I” from the My Courses list. It should look similar to the clippings below.

4) At the College Chemistry I home page, select “Tegrity Classes” in the box on the left side of the page.
If your browser is blocking popup windows, you may see something like this:

Your Tegrity sessions list could not open a new window. This may happen because a popup blocker application is used.

Follow its directions to continue on to the Tegrity site.

6. Once you’ve reached the Tegrity site, you should see a list of videos for this course:

7. Select a video to watch and you will be shown images from the video at 3 minute intervals:

Clicking on the left image will start playing the video from the beginning. If you have already viewed a portion of the video, selecting “Resume Watching” will start from where you left off.
When playback begins the Tegrity window should look like this:

The two areas circled in blue show where to find the controls most used during playback.

The top right clipping shows the blue circle in upper right corner of the video window. Clicking on this icon switches the video to full screen mode (concealing that distracting picture of my wife and me). The Esc key will cancel full screen mode returning you to this screen.

The bottom right clipping is from the blue circle in the lower left of the video window. The controls in this clipping are (left to right) jump back 30 seconds; jump to beginning; play; jump to end; volume; and playback speed (here set to 1.5 x faster). Above these controls is a white dot on a slider that can be used to jump to any point in the video.
